

December 16, 2008

Dear Oxford Semiconductor Customer,

It is our sincere pleasure to welcome you as a PLX client and business partner. As you may know from the recent announcement, the acquisition of Oxford Semiconductor by PLX Technology has been finalized. The acquisition closed on January 2, 2009. Our primary focus has been and will remain to be your success and satisfaction.

Our objective is to make the combination of our companies' bring greater choice and value to you, our customer. Together, our mission is to enable the way the world interconnects through superior technologies and support systems. And ultimately, you — our customer — will gain the ability to execute to your strategy through our market leadership, innovative products and broad industry knowledge.

There will be no immediate changes in the way we currently do business together. The local teams will soon be contacting you directly to arrange detailed informational meetings. All PLX and Oxford contact information can be found here www.plxtech.com/contact. Please monitor this Web page as it may change.

I hope that you will take advantage of this opportunity to learn more about how you can benefit from the combined forces of our union. We look forward to continuing an open dialogue with you. Should you have any immediate questions, please do not hesitate to contact your PLX representative.

Thank you for your continued support and business,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Ralph Schmitt". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

Ralph Schmitt
President and CEO, PLX Technology